ETHYLENE'S FAST RACE.

An unusually large Monday crowd was present at Worth yesterday and witnessed the usual good sport that has characterized the fall meeting since it began. The air was somewhat crisp, but the sun shining in on the grandstand all afternoon made things comfortable. The track had dried out fast since the mud of Saturday and was in excellent condition, good time being made in the various races. Although there was no stake race up for decision, the card was well arranged throughout and was productive of some exciting finishes.

The most important race of the day was the fourth, a handicap dash of six and a half furlongs, for all ages. Ethylene, heavily backed by E. J. Arnold, proved to be the best, winning in hollow fashion by a length from St. Cuthbert, which beat Elsie L. four lengths for second place. St. Cuthbert, off running, displayed keen speed, but faltered when challenged by the winner in the last eighth. Ethylene moved up fast when turning for home and easily passed St. Cuthbert on call. Elsie L. began slowly, but moved up fast in the last quarter and outstayed Andes in the closing strides for third place. Andes tired fast in the last eighth. Duellist fell away beaten when turning for home, but rallied in the last sixteenth and finished fast. Tom Kingsley showed improvement and bears watching from now on. The time, 1:19½, is two-fifths of a second faster than the previous track mark.

The fifth race, a dash of five furlongs for two-year-old colts, resulted in a rattling finish between Bad News and Au Revoir, the former winning by a nose in a terrific drive with Fort Wayne an indifferent third. The last named, showing keen speed, led by a fair margin until entering the last eighth where he began to tire and Au Revoir passed into the lead. In the last sixteenth Bad News came up with a rush and got to Au Revoir in the last thirty yards, the two fighting it out to the wire. Davis was of little help to Bad News in the closing strides, the gelding winning on his own courage. My Surprise was right there for four and a half furlongs. Jackfull showed early speed. The others were never serious contenders.

The day's opening race, a dash of five and a half furlongs for two-year-old fillies, resulted in probably the closest finish of the meeting, Apple Sweet and Aylmer Bruce going under the wire so close together that none but the judges were in a position to say which had won. Apple Sweet won by the shortest possible margin, Aylmer Bruce beating Leash one length for second place. Aylmer Bruce got off flying and displayed much speed, but faltered just a shade in the closing strides. Leash began slowly and appeared to have little chance after the first three furlongs had been run, but picked up ground fast in the last quarter and finished resolutely. Goody Twoshoes tired perceptibly in the last eighth struggle. Esherin, well backed by a "smart" few, was all entangled at the start and had no chance by the time she had gotten into her stride.

Federal was made an odds on favorite in the second race, a dash of one mile for all ages. He won as the betting indicated. Dr. Stephens, displaying much speed, led for the first six furlongs where Federal easily assumed command on call, winning as his rider pleased by one length. Dr. Stephens beat Hoodwink half a length for second place. He tired noticeably when the pinch came. Hoodwink finished strongly. Callant held a good position next to the inside rail in the last eighth but fell away beaten when put to a hard drive. Aurie B. was outclassed and was never a serious contender.

The third race, a dash of six furlongs for three-year-olds and upward, was marred of much of its interest by a poor start, the field being well strung out when the barrier went up. I. Samelson, off flying, showed much speed for the first half mile, but when turning for home he tired rapidly and was easily passed by Ontional, which simply cantered home three lengths before Bummer, which beat the tiring I. Samelson three and one-half lengths for second place. Bummer, off badly, was easily outrun for the first half mile, but in the last quarter moved up fast and finished strongly. Limelight ran a good race, closing up ground fast in the last quarter from a poor beginning. The others had little chance after the barrier went up.

The last race, a dash of one and one-sixteenth miles for three-year-olds and upward, proved to be an easy thing for the well-backed Scotch Plaid. Off in front he ran in close company with Moabina for the first one-half mile where he opened up a gap of one length and steadily increased his lead, thereafter winning in hollow fashion by four and a half lengths from Peaceful, which beat Moabina a half for second place. Peaceful outstayed Moabina in the last eighth struggle for second place. Worthington was badly cut off just before turning for home, but recovered quickly and finished strongly. He would have been third in a few more strides. Lough Derg bled after running six furlongs and had to be pulled up.

The track was in good condition and in case no rain falls today will be lightning fast. Betting was brisk and heavy for a Monday.

LOCAL TURF GOSSIP.

J. O. Keene, owner of Braw Lad and other horses that have raced on local tracks, returned yesterday from Russia, where he has been since July first meeting with unusual success training the stable for a Mr. Bolica, a Russian banker. In the short time that Mr. Keene was in the land of the Czar he annexed forty purses, of which seventeen were stakes, including the St. Petersburg and Moscow Legers—two of the principal racing events of Russia. Both these races were won by a three-year-old named Sirdar, which Mr. Keene says was the best horse in Russia. Before leaving for America Mr. Keene signed to train next year for Mr. Lazzarus, a Polish banker, who contemplates going into the racing game on an extensive scale.

Jockey Coburn was fined $50 by Starter Dwyer in the third race for beating the barrier on I. Samelson.

C. S. Bush, president and general manager of the Crescent City Jockey Club, was among the visitors at the track yesterday.

Jack O' Lantern went wide on the turn and finished with a rush after overcoming interference in the stretch. Counterpoise put up a fast and game race. Shrine, away badly, made up much ground. Incubator, a slow beginner, was outrun early, forced out of position and repeatedly crossed in the stretch, where he was closing up strongly. Stamping Ground closed a big gap. Prediction was nearly left. Mackey Dwyer is out of place in sprints. Lyman Hay showed speed, but is a non-stayer.

LOCAL TURF GOSSIP.

Lough Derg, a recent arrival from Canada and which was liberally supported by his owners in the last race, bled after going a half mile and was pulled up.

Jockey Treanor, recently suspended by the Worth Judges, has been restored to favor and left Sunday for California.

A number of owners that have raced at Worth and who intend to race this winter on the California tracks made liberal entries to the various stakes to be decided there. The principal stables to make entries from here were those of Green B. Morris, who made 55 entries; E. J. Arnold & Co., 36; C. Lind, 15; H. Stover, 14; E. J. Baldwin, 13; J. Curl, 6, and F. D. Weir, 6.

Ethylene reduced the six and a half furlongs record for the Worth track and placed the new mark at 1:19 1/2.

Jockey Coburn had his foot injured while at the post in the fourth race, caused by the unruly actions of Tom Kingsley, which caromed heavily into Elsie L., Coburn's mount.

EASTERN RACING.

Of incidents of the closing day at Morris Park the New York Sun of Sunday says:

"Jockey Louis Smith has been practically ruled off the turf. Several days ago the stewards of the Westchester meeting suspended him for his ride on P. J. Dwyer's Merry Acrobat in the Rancho del Paso Stakes, run at Morris Park on October 14. In that race, the Handspring—Merry Thought colt was a favorite, carrying 100 pounds, but his performance was of such a nature that the stewards immediately began an investigation, with the result that the case of Smith, who had the mount, was turned over to the stewards of the Jockey Club. Yesterday, during the races at Morris Park, the stewards of the Jockey Club held an important meeting. James R. Keene, J. H. Bradford, F. R. Hitchcock, H. K. Knapp and Andrew Miller were present. The evidence in Smith's case was gone over, with the result that the boy's license was revoked, which means that he cannot ride on any track under the jurisdiction of the Jockey Club, or upon other tracks which respect the rulings of the local body. No particulars were given out as to the merits of the case, but it was said that the stewards had conclusive proof and would continue the investigation in other directions.

"The stewards also refused to issue a license as trainer to the former jockey, Willie Martin, who was set down some time ago and has never been able to get back. It was also ordered that no further action be taken in regard to the suspension of the license of M. Goldblatt and the refusal of the entry of the mare Jessie Jarboe, which got into trouble during the recent Buffalo meeting. W. S. Vosburgh was appointed steward to represent the Jockey Club at the coming meeting at Aqueduct, where these officials were also appointed to act: Judge, Clarence McDowell; starter, Mars Cassidy; clerk of the scales, C. Cornelsen; timer, W. H. Barretto; paddock judge, J. L. Hall; starting judge, H. U. Homan, and physician, Dr. E. H. Hoxsie. S. S. Howland was appointed steward to represent the Jockey Club at the Washington Jockey Club's fall meeting at Benning.

"The stewards reinstated all owners and horses that were disqualified for participating in the Charleston meeting, and on the recommendation of the stewards of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association the chestnut mare Belle Australian, by Bonnie Australian—Belle B., was reinstated. Jockeys' licenses were granted to Andrew Dorsey, Thomas F. Corr, James McIntyre and Frank C. Nevins, while the trainers licensed were Al Benson, R. W. Cable, James N. Luckey, J. P. Mayberry, J. A. Sykes, W. C. Wise and S. A. White.

"The punishment meted out to jockey Smith was forecasted by Merry Acrobat's victory in the White Plains Handicap, when the Handspring colt, carrying the same weight that he took up in the Rancho Del Paso Handicap, won by a head under Redfern's clever riding. It was the first time that P. J. Dwyer's colors were carried to victory in a stake race, and the extraordinary part of it was that up to the time that he won Merry Acrobat was a maiden. An interesting feature of the White Plains was the appearance of J. B. Respass' colt Dick Welles, by King Eric—Tea's Over, which during the campaign in the west this year was considered the leading two-year-old. Dick Welles arrived here several weeks ago and at one time it was reported that something was wrong with him, but when he warmed up before yesterday's race it was seen that in conformation and action he had all the earmarks of a racehorse, and for that reason there was a rush into the betting ring which resulted in a lowering of the price against him from 15 to 1 to sixes. The colt was a trifle short in work, but ran an excellent race and was by no means disgraced. He took up 118 pounds, giving eighteen to Merry Acrobat, who was a head and neck in front of him. Early in the day John E. Madden sold River Pirate, who started in this race and was second, to Perry Belmont for $20,000, it is said. Madden bought this colt from S. S. Brown for $8,000, thereby turning a neat profit.

"The White Plains Handicap was first run in 1889, the winners being El Rio Rey, Gascon, Dagonet, Helen Nichols, Sir Excess, Magian, Hazlet, Voter, Handsel, Mr. Clay, King's Courier, Conroy and Disadvantage. Merry Acrobat's time, 1:09 1/2, is a new record for the race. The best previous time being 1:10.

"Alexander Shields, who, with James Carruthers, owns Advance Guard, won a big bunch of money over the iron horse's victory. He was enthusiastic over the success of his horse, which, by the way, as a two-year-old, was claimed out of a selling race for $1,300.

"I intend to go after every long-distance race next year," said Shields, "if I have to buy every horse in training. Advance Guard is worth his weight in gold, and I would not sell him now at any price. He has won $22,000 in stakes and purses this year and pulled up perfectly sound. He is a wonderful animal and will be heard from next year."

"Among the important races won by Advance Guard this year were the Municipal Handicap, the Champagne Handicap, the Saratoga cup, the Bay Ridge Handicap, the Standard Stakes, the Jockey Club weight for age race and other events. He ran second in the Brooklyn Handicap, defeated by Reina, and second to Gold Heels in the Advance Stakes. He has been campaigned steadily both here and on the Coast without let up. The Woodlawn vase, the value of which is $1,000, will be held by Carruthers & Shields during the coming year, ending with the beginning of the the Morris Park meeting next fall, when it must be returned to the Westchester Racing Association. The vase will become the property of a winner only when he shall have won it twice in succession. Up to last year the race for this trophy, which was inaugurated in 1896, was a handicap. Past winners of it were Ramiro, Don de Oro, Ben Holladay, Muskadine, Maid of Harlem and Gold Heels. In 1896 and 1897 the distance was a mile and a half, but since then it has been two miles and a quarter. Gold Heels, with 111 pounds, ran the distance in 3:56 last year, which is still a record for the race and the course. But had Advance Guard been extended, he would have undoubtedly established new figures. Shields during the afternoon purchased Hunter Raine, the winner of the last race, from H. Wehmhoff for $5,000. He got back the full amount, it is said, by backing the son of Longstreet—Chartreuse at 4 to 1.

"Marylander appears to be an unlucky steeplechaser. In a race on October 20, when he was heavily backed, he fenced poorly and finally threw his rider, Bernhard. In yesterday's steeplechase the horse was again widely played, but he went through a similar performance, falling at the hedge in the backstretch and sending Bernhard away suffering from numerous bruises. Mr. Stoffel broke down hopelessly and was led away, his career on the turf being at an end.

"Another copper-riveted good thing went wrong yesterday when Rough Rider failed to finish inside the money in the fifth race. The gelding had not been out since the Saratoga meeting and had been prepared for a killing. It is understood that arrangements were made to back him all over the country in the poolrooms. As much as 25 to 1 was quoted against him in the opening prices, but there was such a rush to get aboard that the price fell to sevens at post time. Rough Rider got away from the post sluggishly, was shut in going up the backstretch and after that had no chance to win. The way the backers of Trinity Bell, John A. Drake's Rossington filly, put their money down in this race created no end of astonishment. They regarded the race as a foregone conclusion, evidently, and so it turned out to be.

"Of course when Trinity Bell was put up at auction, her entered price being $750 Albert Simons was on hand and promptly bid $1,000. Enoch Wishard, acting for Drake, with the evident intention of putting a stop to Simons' warfare, bid $1,500. Simons raised it $200 and Wishard said $2,000, whereupon Simons had enough. It cost Drake, therefore, $170 to win this race, as the amount of subscriptions and the winner's end of the purse was $780. Simons also cost Drake $700 to win with Alabarch on Friday, while Drake had to pay $400 for winning with Vincennes last Tuesday."

THOROUGHBREDS AT AUCTION.

Quite a large number of prominent turfmen were attracted to the paddock at Morris Park last Friday by the clearing out sales of several prominent stables, and before the bingle called the horses to the post for the first race several good racehorses had changed hands and were scheduled to seek honors in fields new to them.

F. Ambrose Clark, the amateur rider and sportsman; Patrick Meany, former steeplechase rider, and Gwynne Tompkins, trainer for J. W. Colt, were all in search of material for the jumping game, and as a result several of Messrs. Sanford & Son's horses went for good prices, considering that recently they have been of little use as bread winners in the running line.

Schoharie went to Meany after lively bidding at $2,100, while Tompkins secured Dourou for $2,000. Mr. Clark purchased the two-year-old Old Fort for $450, and in the opinion of many secured a bargain.

A dozen and a half of two-year-olds belonging to W. C. Whitney and Sydney Paget were sold, but few of them realized any sort of prices. Alhambra was secured by J. Hynes for $1,000, while Rome Respass bought the bay filly by Lissak-Thora for $800.

The sale of racehorses in training and broodmares in the Morris Park paddocks Saturday was well attended, and the lot offered by J. B. Haggin was the subject of lively bidding.

Royal, the four-year-old chestnut colt by Candlemas-Royal Falcon, brought the highest price of the sale, going to Newton Bennington for $7,500.

Remorse, Star and Garter and others brought fair figures.

L. S. Sire was again a buyer of thoroughbreds, and paid $2,000 for the Tenny-Ionis two-year-old filly sold by Perry Belmont.

Newton Bennington also took Musidora for $1,500, and Numeral went to Fred Berlew for $2,000.

Hunter Raine went to Alex Shields, after quite a lot of opposition from various sources, for $5,000.

The broodmares from Col. James E. Pepper's Meadowthorpe Stud failed to attract the active notice of the breeders present, and the majority of them were passed without a bid. The summaries:

THE WOODLAWN VASE.

At Morris Park last Saturday when Advance Guard won the Morris Park Autumn Stakes at two miles and a quarter he also won possession of the famous Woodlawn Vase for his owner. Sunday Alex Shields offered to wager $1,000 that one of his horses will win it again next year, in which event it would become his personal property. Of this racing trophy a letter to the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune says:

"As a specimen of the silversmith's art, designed nearly half a century ago, the Woodlawn Vase compares favorably with any latter-day trophies of the kind, its exquisite and delicate workmanship showing that the artisans of 1902 have very little, if anything, 'on' their confreres of 1860. Indeed, Tiffany & Co., of this city, the designers of the vase forty-two years since, have no hesitation in pronouncing it the equal of anything they have ever turned out, either before or since.

"In adding the Woodlawn Vase, value $1,000, to the Autumn Weight for Age race, two miles and a quarter, the Westchester Racing Association stipulated that the vase must be won twice consecutively before it becomes the property of the holder. Also that a holder of the vase, through virtue of having won it once, may be required to give security for its safekeeping.

"Its history is a most romantic one, taking in the history of American racing at the beginning of the war, and the revival of the sport, after the internecine strife that decimated a nation was over.

"Robert A. Alexander, of Woodlawn, Ky., had the vase made for him by Tiffany & Co., in 1860, after designs furnished by him. The following year he presented the handsome trophy to the Woodlawn Racing Association, of Louisville, Ky., to be run for twice a year, spring and fall, over a four-mile route. The vase, under these original conditions, had to be won three times in succession by one stable before becoming the property of the owner or owners.

"In 1881 Captain Thomas C. Moore won the initial races for the vase with Vandal's great daughter, Mollie Jackson, and the one-eyed heroine, Idlewild, by Lexington. Then came Kentucky's trial by fire as the tide of battle flowed to and fro across the dark and bloody ground, and the stud farms at Woodlawn and Nantura were harassed by regular and irregular troops 'pressing' horses and anything else they fancied.

"So persistent became these drafts on the Alexander and Harper farms that valuables were buried for safekeeping, all the Alexander silver, including the Woodlawn Vase, being consigned to the deep recesses of the earth. In a fray by guerrillas during this period Adam Harper, brother of John Harper, the owner of Longfellow, was shot and killed at his own gate, while the same band, headed by a woman, Sue Munday, went on to Woodlawn, where it secured Asteroid and other valuable thoroughbreds after a pitched battle with the Alexander retainers on the banks of the Kentucky river. The marauders swam the Kentucky river with the horses under a shower of bullets, but got away. How Asteroid was captured by the pluck and courage of Alexander's two friends, Warren Viley and Zeke Clay, is an interesting story in itself.

"So frequent did these guerrilla raids become that the entire stock at Woodlawn, stallions, mares and horses of all ages was removed to Sangamon County, Ill., together with all valuables, etc., including the Woodlawn Vase. The conclusion of the war witnessed the return of the equine colony home again to Woodlawn.

"In 1866 the Woodlawn Association again 'hung up' the vase, R. A. Alexander's Asteroid, by Lexington—Nebula, having a walk in for it. The next spring, 1867, the same owner's Merrill, by Lexington, also had a walkover. That fall Gen. A. Buford's Harry of the West defeated R. A. Alexander's Lee Paul for the vase, but the Woodlawn Association, following financial troubles, returned the vase to the Alexanders.

"Added to the list of winners of the vase named was the stout colt Bramble, by Bonnie Scotland. In 1878 the new Louisville Jockey Club purchased the vase from the Alexanders and added it to the Great American Stallion Stakes, run for at Louisville in September of that year. Bramble, ridden by James McLaughlin, won the race and trophy. On the return of the Dwyer stable to Brooklyn the vase was deposited at Tiffany's for safekeeping.

"In 1883, 1884 and 1885 the vase was added to the Great Long Island Stakes, two mile heats, run at the fall meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club at Sheephead Bay, Eole winning it the first year and Miss Woodford the next two, which again, by the conditions, returned it to the Dwyers.

"After Miss Woodford won the race for the Dwyers two years in succession it was raced for several times without changing hands, the last occasion prior to Gold Heels' success a year ago being in 1894, when Banquet and Sir Excess ran two races for its possession at Jerome Park. On September 24 of that year Sir Excess beat Banquet at nine furlongs, while on October 4 the race was repeated at a mile and a quarter, Banquet winning. This was the last day's racing held at Jerome Park and the vase returned to M. F. Dwyer's possession. From him it was purchased by the Westchester Association nearly two years ago."
